Re: COVID-19/Coronavirus Emergency

To All Delaware County Business and Employers

The Delaware County Commissioners, in conjunction with recommendations from the Delaware County Health Department and Emergency Management Authority have adopted an Emergency Declaration requiring most businesses to close in order to contain the virus from spreading. Delaware County has experienced both confirmed cases and a death from this deadly virus. The County has received hundreds of inquiries from businesses inquiring as to whether their operations could continue to conduct business because of some contract or impact on “essential services”. Some are legitimate and some are very tenuous.

The Delaware County Commissioners take their responsibility to protect all of the residents of county from this rapidly spreading deadly pandemic virus very seriously. The Commissioners did not enact the emergency declaration closing businesses and operations without substantial review, input and assistance from the local health professionals to try and curtail the spread to others. We all share a fundamental responsibility to be acting in a manner that is consistent with virus prevention and suppression.

Before calling the Commissioners or conducting “business as usual” please understand that knowing what the Commissioners know and understand about this pandemic the only real solution is to minimize large groups of people. If you determine that you or your business is justified in remaining open and allowing its employees to continue to congregate in groups and the virus is found in the workforce not only will your entire operation and workforce be placed on mandatory closure but it could be seen that in staying open this could be seen as a act of gross misconduct and a complete lack of social responsibility.

These are very serious times with serious, if not possible life-threatening consequences that it is incumbent on everyone, employer, employee, government and the community to act and stop the spread of the COVID-19 virus. The Board of Commissioners are asking all businesses to take it upon themselves to curtail their non-essential operations instead of trying to work around the Emergency Declaration. Thank you for your contribution to Delaware County, Indiana.

Very Truly Yours,

Delaware County Commissioners
